1 Project Idea

Project: Analyzing the efficacy of TANF by using predictive ML. We want to try and predict which TANF recipients exit poverty after receiving TANF, which types of households benefit the most from TANF (highly tied to geography), and whether TANF improves later employment, wealth, upward mobility.

We would want to try to isolate the effects of TANF for households. TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) is a welfare program that targets families with children experiencing bouts of poverty. It was created to replace AFDC (ended 1996) (Assistance for Families with Dependent Children). TANF is a state block grant program so states themselves choose how to spend the grant themselves, often leading to different uses for the funds.

2 Variables

The variables to look for are as follows:

- Family ID
- Whether family received TANF and how much
- Whether family received other assistance or external income and how much
- Poverty measure from 1999-Most Recent
- Household income/wealth
- Demographic characteristics of household
- Geography (State)
